Left much alone, in these late empty years, Life, (starved and dwindled,) tells its old tales o er; And, like the wind, the Past sings in mine ears; But, like the wind, goes by. I believe that one of the chief sweets of memory is drawn from the melancholy which follows in its train; in my lonely moments of meditation, the union of tender memories, cheerful and regretful, bring forth an offering of tears, the children of thought, soothing and sorrowful in their influence upon the mind. Whilst with regret I look back on the past, I can also look with bright hope to the future. It is a part of my nature to love the future, with its promises, as well as the past, with its recollections. Deep, deep goes the song which guides me up the mountain from whence I can look it upon the distant landscape through which I have wandered....
