Dover Publications Inc., United States, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. New edition. Language: English . Brand New Book. Witches on broomsticks, curly-tailed mice, wide-eyed owls, sharp-beaked wood-peckers, squiggly caterpillars! See these and dozens of other creatures come to life simply by folding, cutting and curling a single sheet of paper. Even very young hands can fashion a variety of whimsical wonders with the help of this easy-to-read and amply illustrated guidebook. No special artistic skills or materials are needed. Ideal for classroom or hobbyroom use, Michael Grater's entertaining book shows how to construct a myriad of shapes - each one hidden in a piece of paper and just waiting to be lifted out. Clear step-by-step instructions and 92 vivid illustrations allow paper engineers of all ages to create such fanciful figures as a shark, frog, tortoise, seahorse and crocodile, a leaping lizard, rabbit and horse, as well as a lavish fireworks display and a portrait gallery of delightful faces. Here's an unusual and inexpensive learning tool that parents and teachers can use to develop a child's sense of color and pattern and to encourage creativity and imagination.
