

The Business of Podcasting: How to Take Your Podcasting Passion from the Personal to the Professional (Paperback)

By Steve Lubetkin, Donna Papacosta

Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Two of the pioneers in podcasting have joined forces to co-author The Business of Podcasting: How to Take Your Podcasting Passion from the Personal to the Professional, which focuses on the business aspects of producing audio programs for the Web. The book is also available for instant download on the Amazon Kindle. The authors are Donna Papacosta of Trafalgar Communications, host of the popular Trafcom News Podcast and an internationally known trainer and seminar leader; and Steve Lubetkin, founder of Professional Podcasts, one of the first podcast production companies and now a division of The Lubetkin Media Companies LLC, an award-winning producer of business and organizational podcasts, with more than three quarters of a million downloads. Unlike other podcasting books that delve into the mechanics of creating a podcast, The Business of Podcasting describes the business side of podcasting: how to position clients expertise through podcasting, the best business models, how to find clients, contracts, legal reviews, and much more. Here are some comments from some of our early readers: Reading The Business of Podcasting was a pleasure . The book is a...

Great electronic book and useful one. It can be written in straightforward terms rather than difficult to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
