There is a divine and hidden science whose origin can only be discovered by the wavering lights of tradition, whose doctrines and purposes are enveloped in sacred mysteries. It is now degenerated into a society of gluttons and wine-bibbers, who yawn while their Masters expound to them those emblems which have excited the wonder of the greatest philosophers of the past, and who deem that the richest gem of freemasonry is the banquet which closes the labour of the Lodge. And yet this order can boast of some learned and intellectual men, who endeavour to find the key to the hidden language of symbols, and who appreciate at its true value the high honours which the initiated are permitted to enjoy. In spite of the abuses with which it has been degraded, in spite of the sneers...
