

Modernity and Its Malcontents: Ritual and Power in Postcolonial Africa

By -

University of Chicago Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 272 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 5.8in. x 0.8in. What role does ritual play in the everyday lives of modern Africans? How are so-called traditional cultural forms deployed by people seeking empowerment in a world where modernity has failed to deliver on its promises? Some of the essays in Modernity and Its Malcontents address familiar anthropological issues like witchcraft, myth, and the politics of reproduction but treat them in fresh ways, situating them amidst the polyphonies of contemporary Africa. Others explore distinctly nontraditional subjects among them the Nigerian popular press and soul-eating in Nigeria in such a way as to confront the conceptual limits of Western social science. Together they demonstrate how ritual may be powerfully mobilized in the making of history, present, and future. Addressing challenges posed by contemporary African realities, the authors subject such concepts as modernity, ritual, power, and history to renewed critical scrutiny. Writing about a variety of phenomena, they are united by a wish to preserve the diversity and historical specificity of local signs and practices, voices and perspectives. Their work makes a substantial and original contribution toward the historical anthropology of Africa. The contributors, all from the Africanist circle at the University of Chicago, are Adeline Masquelier,...
