Excerpt from Fortieth Annual Report of the New York State Museum of Natural History: For the Year 1886 The Regents of the University submit to you, as required by law, their fortieth annual report as trustees of the State Museum of Natural History. In the last annual report the trustees of the museum called your attention to the work of preparing the State Hall for its occupancy for a museum, which was intrusted to them by a law passed in 1883. The full use of the building was only to come into the hands of the museum when the State Officers were provided with proper accommodations in the Capitol. This has not yet been accomplished, and the Comptroller, the Treasurer and the Engineer and Surveyor still occupy parts of the building. Since the last report, however, the clerk of the Court of Appeals has vacated two rooms which he had occupied on the south west corner of the second story. These rooms are now used by the museum, one of them being the quarters for the State Botanist and the large collection of plants composing the State herbarium, which are under his care. The other room is used by Professor Hall and Mr. Beecher as an office. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
