THE IMPACT OF COMMUNITY BASED ECOTOURISM PROJECTS

LAP Lambert Academic Publishing Nov 2014, 2014. Taschenbuch. Condition: Neu. Neuware - This book examines four Community Ecotourism projects in the Amboro National Park in Bolivia, which have been established by local environmental NGOs. The objective is to investigate the impact of these projects in the livelihoods and social relations in the communities. Furthermore, the analysis will also allow policy recommendations some extent. The main question that concerns this research is if the projects have been effective in reducing or alleviating poverty and vulnerability, whilst providing environmental sustainability. The research will also provide insight into the impact of the projects on social, cultural and economic structure of the communities. Furthermore, it will also show whether the beneficiaries see Community Ecotourism projects as an important income and activity diversification option, and if they see the projects as environmentally sustainable. The research relies on interviews and data collected during fieldwork in Bolivia in 2007. Four different Community Ecotourism projects in the Amboro National Park were visited, as well as key informants and stakeholders. 88 pp. Englisch.
