

Gerrys Window

By Frances Cowley

Paperback. Condition: New. Matt Johnson (illustrator). 28 pages. Watch trailer: http://www.amazon.com/Frances-Cowley/B00IYPZSJ6/ref:nttathrd_ppel1 For ages 4-8. Gerry is an enthusiastic artist, who after watching a thrilling parade is inspired to entertain people with her own mini parades. However, onlookers are less than impressed. . . that is until Gerry returns to her true artistic passion and fame is no longer important to her. An allegorical tale about celebrity, doing what makes one happy versus chasing glory and how authenticity brings the most rewarding attention. This story is ideal for bedtime reading and enjoyable for the whole family. Reviewed by Michelle Stanley for Readers Favorite Gerry is a little girl who loves to draw pictures. She draws when she is at home, in the car, and anywhere she goes as she always takes her art supplies along. Gerry watches a parade and decides to imitate the activities so that she can get attention. Unfortunately, folks aren't pleased to hear her loud banging on a drum. So Gerry's next plan is to sing, but this doesn't go down well with the neighbours as her voice is screechy. She sulks, but is soon inspired to draw images of the exciting things she saw at...

The publication is simple in go through preferable to fully grasp. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
