Reviews

Absolutely among the best publication I have got at any time go through. It really is writter in straightforward phrases rather than hard to understand. Its been designed in an extremely straightforward way which is just soon after i finished reading this publication through which basically modified me, alter the way i believe.

SHN. Paperback. Condition: New. 168 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.0in. x 0.4in. Mark Marshall a middle aged computer technician lives in Newcastle, Australia. He visits his small farm in the country, where he discovers a spring not far from the house. After he tastes the spring water, he discovers that most of the lines on his face disappear. He becomes stronger and much healthier. He decides to keep this secret from everybody. At the same time, he also discovers that he is able to read other peoples minds, and know of events that are likely to occur in the future. One day he goes fishing with his friend, Jonathan. Marks rod gets a strong jerk. To his great surprise, he catches a venomous jelly fish (mendusa), which stings him with one of its tentacles. Mark cries out, expressing enormous pain. He falls into a coma. Jonathan kills the jellyfish and removes the poisonous tentacle from Marks leg. Then he calls the ambulance. Mark is taken to hospital. While in hospital, he had been talking in his sleep about the miraculous spring water. After several months in hospital, he returns home. He sells his house in Newcastle and moves to Sydney. One of the nurses from the hospital where he was convalescing for a long time, and whom he did not remember, asks him to fix her computer. He realizes that she has other plans. He pretends to be under alcohols influence, and he departs from the nurses house. One day on the racecourse, he discovers that he can foretell the winner. He earns a fortune on the races and donates some of it to charities. In his job, he meets Elizabeth who is a novelist. They fall in love. Elizabeth is not aware of Marks farm, and the spring water. Eventually...
