Artisan. 1 Paperback(s), 2015. soft. Book Condition: New. The more we know about the animals in our world and the better we care for them, assures former veterinary technician and lifelong animal advocate Tracey Stewart, the better our own lives will be. In her charmingly illustrated manifesto of loving kindnesscomplete with a few homemade projectsStewart offers a simple and beautiful guide: treat animals the way you would like to be treated. She provides insight into the secret lives of animals through her own experiences with the animals she has known, and advises on the kindest ways to live with and alongside them. At home, she shows readers how to speak "dog-ese" and "cat-ese" and how to "virtually adopt" an animal. In the backyard, we learn about building bee houses, dealing nicely with pesky moles, and finding creative ways to bird-watch. And on the farm, Stewart teaches us what we can do to help all farm animals lead a better lifeand reveals the "superpowers" of pigs. "Delightful, entertaining, and hugely important. Tracey's love for animals has led to a profound understanding of their world, and it becomes clear that the better we know this world, the better their lives will be. And this, in turn, will make our own lives more fulfilling. It is the perfect gift for all who love animals. And for those who should love them better."Jane Goodall"A memoir and how-to about enriching the world of the creatures in your life, whether they be dogs, cats, or the crows in your backyard. The book details basic animal behavior as well as practical humane solutions to common animal-human conflicts (cats scratching furniture, moles destroying your lawn). It also has craft projects for those of us with great intentions and no skills."NYTimes"Stewart has a heart as big as all outdoors,...
