Excerpt: . . . slight assistance in the initial work being done for the training of Hungarian students for the ministry at Scranton, Pa. ; and, through its representatives in connection with those of other bodies, is engaged in negotiations with the authorities of Mt. Pleasant Institute in VVestem Pennsylvania, concerning the utilization of its property for this purpose. These constitute minor exceptions to the general policy of the Society in regard to the preparation of men for missionary service among our foreign populations. (8) Comity and co-operation with other denominational organizations engaged in this work. There is a general understanding among our home missionary societies that there shall be no encroachment by one upon the established work of another. The kind and the extent of co-operation is the subject of consideration by some of these bodies. The Home Missions Council at its last meeting created a...
