They do not think that it will be necessary for. the person so selected to remain in the States for more than a few weeks, if he should be able to remain, to arrive there about the time of the reopening of the courts, and if some progress can be made in the preliminary arrangements before his arrival. The committee have very carefully considered your observations as to the personnel of the receivership, and they appreciate the considerations which lead you to make the offer of resigning the receivership, if the committee should think it desirable that you should do so. The committee desire me to say that they feel it to be due to you, having regard to your arrangements and engagements for the future, that no unnecessary delay shall take place on their part in determining whether the offer of your resignation of the receivership, which you so considerably made, should be accepted. They would prefer, however, to postpone their decision upon this point until after the gentleman whom they propose to send out to the States, shall have arrived there, and shall have been in communication with them. The committee, therefore, desire me to say that they hope that in the-meantime the companies, and those interested in them, will continue to have the benefit of your services and of your great experience in their affairs in the receivership, and the committee on the other hand will endeavor,...
