I just began reading this pdf. It is actually written in straightforward words instead of hard to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Excerpt from Canterbury: Official Guide to the Cathedral Church and Handbook to the City These traces are full of increasing interest for those who have time for patient investigation. Those who have only a few hours to spend will probably content themselves with a view of the vestgate, the Cathedral Church, the Precincts, S. Augustine's College, S. Martin's Church and the Dane John. These points present themselves conveniently in this order to those who arrive by the south-eastern Railway. Visitors by other routes should begin with the Cathedral Church and follow the order indicated in the Guide as far as the Dane John: then return to the main street, following the description we now proceed to give.
