Shall not uncircumcision, which is by nature, if it fulfill the Law, reprove that which is by Circumcision, if it transgress the Law? In considering the development of human intelligence, in its different spheres of activity, from its infancy to the present day, there will be discovered a great fundamental principle or law, to which it is subjected, by an invariable necessity, and which is established by rational proof derived from a knowledge of our organization, as well as from an attentive examination of the past history of the human family. This principle or law is thus briefly declared: Every principal-conception of man, in every branch of knowledge, passes successively through three different stages of theory - the first of which is the theological or fictitious stage; the second, the metaphysical or abstract; the third,...
