1st Book Library. Paperback. Condition: New. 276 pages. Dimensions: 11.1in. x 8.3in. x 0.7in. There's not too many things that I enjoy more than a good book. And at this point in my life, I read a lot of home school books and, boy, do I have one to recommend to you! Do you have a tendency to compare yourself to other homeschool families? Does it seem like many of the families you read about in magazines, or the families of homeschool speakers you've heard speak at conventions, seem like they live in another world than your family does? Maybe it's the Planet of Perfection. I don't know about you, but I sometimes turn a little green with envy when I read about others whose children rise up and call them blessed at 7:00 a.m., fix their own breakfasts, crack their books immediately after washing their dishes, and then work diligently with a cherubic smile on their faces, all the while responding to you with perfect manners and twinkles in their eyes. Well, in her book Home School - Where Learning is For Life, Jackie Cross does not sugar-coat real-life homeschooling. With charm, grace, tears, and a lot of humor, Jackie invites us into her home and lets us sit with a cup of tea while she tells us of the ups and downs, the good and the bad, and the blessings of homeschooling six kids for over 20 years. It's not often that I've read a more complete, honest look at homeschooling. There are 35 chapters in this book, with such titles as: Where Do I Begin, Discovering Yourself as a Teacher, What About Socialization (a favorite of mine!), Discipleship: The Secret to Well Behaved Children, What Role Does Dad Play (a topic I haven't seen dealt with...
