Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Irrigation Age, Vol. 14: October, 1899 With the growth of soil products comes the railways, the postal delivery, the schools and churches and the wheels of manufacturing plants. While European countries are bidding for the expanding trade now awaiting American enterprise, the factories for making desirable goods should be located in the irrigated empire. These require labor and raw materials coming directly or indirectly from the rural districts where irrigation produces both the strong, health ful laborer and the material of which we must weave the finished article of commerce. Will the people of this country grasp and retain this new era of prosperity and develop Arid America, or shall the tide pass by and others gather the golden pearls brought from the isles of the sea?
