Wyston Books, Inc. Paperback. Condition: New. 206 pages. Dimensions: 8.4in. x 5.4in. x 0.5in. In recent decades, few markets have increased so dramatically as that of children and few are as important. Successful products can foster a lifetime of brand loyalty while a failed product or marketing campaign can cause a lifetime of rejection. Yet some companies, not realizing the unique psychology of children, create products or market them to children based on faulty ideas, later wondering why they were unsuccessful despite great effort and financial investment. The minds of children differ profoundly from those of adults and to successfully market and create childrens products requires knowledge of these differences. Though childrens behavior can seem quirky and inexplicable, it possesses an inherent logic which can be understood by adults and is described in this book. Through Childrens Minds provides sophisticated information about the childrens marketplace, marketing and creating childrens products, and what children like and dislike in television and other media. Dr. Stanley Goldstein is an author and psychologist who has appeared on national broadcasts including The Larry King Show and CourtTV.
