AuthorHouse. Paperback. Condition: New. 312 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.8in. In this sequel to AWAKENED BELLYDWELLERS the spaceship Columbia follows the spaceship Americus into the macrocosm searching for unspoiled habitable planets. Both hunts are successful. During the journey Captain of the Columbia, Justin Clark, rekindles his off-and-on romantic involvement with Dr. Millie Nelson. Phillip Baxter, ex-President of the United States of America and his wife, Denise, join the pioneers in their endeavor. His daughter Evelyn and her spouse, Bart, had previously set out to resettle a new world. During the journey of the Columbia Denise bears a son. This is the account of the progress made in developing new societies far from the devastation the space pioneers left behind. As quickly as he can after offloading his passengers on their new world Justin Clark races back to the Planet Earth only to find his military talents are not required. Five space ships had left the newfound planet Alpha Blue after quickly depositing the first Bellydwellers who left the planet Earth aboard the Americus to settle on a new world. They find a sparsely populated environment and go about the task of revitalizing their home planet. One of the ships which had been destined for the African continent has not been heard from. A search mission is sent to find the missing craft. Three Captains head out in different directions. An amazing discovery leads them to their goal. Captain Justin Clark regrets his hasty voyage back to Earth and decides to return to the planet Meglora. He makes the trip on a supply shuttle called the Endeavor. Along the way he gets to visit the planet Alpha Blue which was settled by the first Bellydwellers to abandon Earth. Once Justin gets back to Meglora he weds Millie and begins an...
