There are imitations of our machines 0 regarding which the most extravagant claims these imitations are only attempts at copying our goods, and as the copyist has to await the latest development before making the imitation, we would respectfully request that you make a thorough investigation of our latest improved tools before-adopting tools of any other make, as you will find our machines superior to others, not only in design, but material and workmanship as well. We also illustrate a number of our other specialties, to which we invite your attention. Feed water regulators are becoming a necessity in all modern steam plants, and we take pleasure in announcing that we have developed and perfected a new type of feed water regulator, which is a marked improvement over any other feed water regulating device. If you are interested in feed water regulators, and will write us, we will be glad to explain to you its merits. IT will pay you T O investi gate the liberty feed water regulator before you place your orders elsewhere.
