Excerpt: . . . 11 Immigration Law and Enforcement We must be able to monitor and respond to entries along our long borders with Canada and Mexico, working with those countries as much as possible. Our law en-forcement system ought to send a message of welcome, tolerance, and justice to members of the immigrant communities in the United States, while also fostering the respect for the rule of law. Good immigration services are one way to reach out that is valuable, including for intelligence. State and local law enforcement agencies need more training and partnerships with federal agencies so they can cooperate more effectively with those federal authorities in identifying terrorist suspects. Finally, secure identification should begin in the United States. We believe that the federal government should set standards for the issuance of birth certificates and sources of identification such as drivers licenses. The agenda on immigration and border control, then, is multi-faceted and vital to our national security. The bottom line is that our visa and border control systems must become an integral part of our counterterrorism intelligence system. We must steer a course that remains true to our commitment to an open society that wel-comes legitimate immigrants and refugees while concentrating our resources on identification of potential of potential terrorists and prevention of their entry into the United States. THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTOR As part of the 9 11 story, we spent a very considerable time looking at the per-formance of the Intelligence...
