OCLC Number: (OCoLC)50244610 Subject: Chief information officers -- Legal status, laws, etc. -- United States. Excerpt: . . . ings on the Internet, and federal courts will post court information and judicial opinions on their websites. Agencies will be required to develop performance measures that demonstrate how e-government initiatives will enable progress toward agency objectives, and to report on their compliance with the bills provisions. Agency heads will have to take into consideration the effect of their e-government programs on Americans who lack access to the Internet, and ensure that alternatives are available. Information is a vital national resource, and new information technologies allow information to be organized and accessed in more productive ways. The bill requires new policies to make government information easier to search electronically, and to improve the retention of electronic records. A directory of government websites, organized by subject matter, will be created and linked to the federal Internet portal. Agencies, scientists, policy makers and the public will have access over the Internet to non-sensitive information about where federal funds for scientific research are spent. The Office of Personnel Management will be...
