Homes for the Country: Building Designs from the Arts and Crafts Era (Paperback)

By R. A. Briggs

Jeremy Mills Publishing, United Kingdom, 2007. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .As the Arts and Crafts movement of the late 19th century offered the dream of exchanging the squalor and ugliness of cities for a more relaxed, aesthetically pleasing lifestyle, architect Robert Alexander Bungalow Briggs was the leading proponent of a new type of housing embodying the movement's ideals. Following the success of his 1891 book Bungalows and Country Residences, in 1909 Briggs published Homes for the Country, aiming to inspire that numerous class who contemplate building a house but who are unable to decide in what form their ideas may be carried out. This remastered edition features Briggs varied designs for light, spacious dwellings. Detailed line drawings and floor plans are accompanied by notes on layout and construction. Homes for the Country is a fascinating and inspiring look into the creative mind of a man lauded by architects, historians and designers alike.

The publication is easy in read better to understand. It is writer in basic words and phrases rather than hard to understand. You wont truly feel monotony at anytime of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for about if you question me).
