

My Beloved Russia: A Story of God's Love for a Persecuted People (Paperback)

By Dimitry Mustafin, Irene Howat

Christian Focus Publications Ltd, United Kingdom, 2005. Paperback. Condition: New. Revised edition. Language: English . Brand New Book. Whatever an atheistic state plans, a higher power breaks the chains. Dimitry Mustafin, a Professor of Inorganic Chemistry in Moscow, was given permission by the Soviet Government to work for a year in Italy - although his wife and daughter were not allowed to go in case they all defected. Dimitry became a Christian in Milan. When he told his mother of his conversion, he learned for the first time that his grandfather had been martyred for his faith. Defection was far from his mind; instead he longed to take the gospel to his Motherland. He left Russia a Lieutenant in the Soviet Chemical Defence Army and returned. a Bible Smuggler! Since then, Dimitry has spent his time distributing Bibles in Moscow and other parts of Russia - and sharing his faith in every way possible. Gideons International heard of what he and others in his congregation were doing, and they now supply Scriptures, not secretly, one at a time, but by the lorry-load. Because of his family history, Dimitry has a deep concern for prisoners and orphan children, who also often end up in prison....

READ ONLINE
[1.22 MB]

Reviews

Undoubtedly, this is the best work by any author. It is really simplified but shocks within the 50 % in the publication. Its been written in an extremely straightforward way and is particularly just following i finished reading this publication by which basically altered me, modify the way in my opinion.

-- Vivianne Dietrich

This written publication is fantastic. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. You will not feel monotony at at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for concerning should you ask me).

-- Tevin McClure