SOUTH SUDANESE PAST NOTES RECORDS (PAPERBACK)

Africa World Books Pty Ltd, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . This collection of articles first appeared in The Pioneer weekly newspaper. Its founding editor, Atem Yaak Atem, invited me to contribute a weekly column of historical pieces that we decided to entitle Past Notes and Records. Back in the early 1980s when we were colleagues in the Regional Ministry of Culture and Information I had written a series of articles called The Streets of Juba for The Southern Sudan Magazine, which Atem had also founded. In those articles I gave brief biographies of some of the famous South Sudanese after whom some of Juba s main streets had been named, and in many ways Past Notes and Records is a continuation and expansion of that earlier series. The pieces are intended to inform and to stimulate discussion and debate. The history of South Sudan has been a neglected subject. Much of the academic history about South Sudan has been written about foreign rulers rather than about South Sudanese communities and individuals. The history of South Sudan and South Sudanese was not included in the Sudan school syllabuses and is usually excluded from the general political histories of Sudan. There is still no reliable textbook on South Sudanese history for use in its schools. South Sudanese may know something about the past of their own communities, but few have had the opportunity to learn much about the broad history of their nation or how it fits into the wider region. The columns in this collection were originally addressed to a South Sudanese readership, and it is primarily for that readership, both at home and abroad, that they are republished here. This book is neither a comprehensive overview of South Sudan s...
