The Faces of Televisual Media: Teaching, Violence, Selling to Children (Paperback)

By -

Taylor Francis Inc, United States, 2003. Paperback. Condition: New. 2nd Revised edition. Language: English . Brand New Book. This collection offers original, state-of-the-art contributions from leading authorities in children s televisual media. International researchers from communication and psychology provide readers with ready access to current televisual research, trends, and policymaking/political climate issues pertaining to children. This second edition provides a current summary of studies on content, viewing patterns, comprehension, effects, and individual differences in instructional and educational programming, televisual entertainment and violence programming, and televisual advertising to children. Editors Edward L. Palmer and Brian M. Young have structured the volume into three sections examining the faces of television: the Teaching (instructional/educational) Face, the Violent Face, and the Selling (advertising) Face. Chapters within each section identify and focus recurrent themes while integrating them topically into a coherent whole. Each area incorporates new technologies and considers their potentials, effects, and future. Subjects featured in the various chapters include: *cross-cultural and historical comparisons with an in-depth perspective on the BBC and other European/Asian televisual media roots, as well as America s formative televisual media roots; *an examination of key differences between developed and developing countries; *implications of emerging instructional/educational media for children s...
