Excerpt from Bi Metallic Money: A Paper Read Before the Society for the Reform and Codification of the Law of Nations, on the 15th August, 1879 The present is considered a favourable time to issue a second edition of this Pamphlet. The sitting of the Monetary Conference at Paris has caused increased attention to be directed to this important subject, and it is believed that a decided change of opinion is taking place in the higher financial regions of London which may produce important consequences ere long. The writer would specially call attention to the admirable pamphlet recently issued by Henry Hucks Gibbs, Esq. one of our delegates to the Conference of 1878. None has yet appeared better fitted to popularise this somewhat abstruse question in England. It is to be hoped that the Conference now sitting will not be permitted to break up without a serious attempt to settle this question on an international basis. It may be safely predicted that if it proves abortive, a time of serious monetary disturbance will have to be encountered by all commercial nations.
