Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The University of Pennsylvania Record 1898-1903 of the Class of 93 As to the individual members of the class, the committee takes pride in having secured information from 144 of them, as compared with 110 who responded to the questions sent out five years ago. This was accomplished in some cases through repeated letters, and in not a few by personal visits or by tele phone. This co-operation by the men is not only gratifying, but indispensable in the preparation of a satisfactory book. Of the 183 men who matriculated in our class 173 are still living. About ten did not receive the questions mailed to their last known addresses. Of the remaining twenty the majority remained with the class a very short time, and have consequently but little affiliation with it. We therefore feel that the record is as nearly complete as may be. Eighty-three of those Who have responded are married, sixty-one are unmarried. Three have received degrees during the past five years, and thirteen showed their patriotism by fighting the Spaniards in 1898. Twenty-seven have entered the field of literature, chiefly in contributions on technical subjects, and ten have held political office of some kind. There are twenty-four lawyers, fifteen manufacturers, fourteen teachers, twelve doctors, eleven engineers, eleven bankers and brokers, eight clergymen, six civil engineers, seven journalists. Four architects, three insurance brokers, two railroad men, one farmer. Twenty-two may be included in that comprehensive category business, and four will acknowledge no occupation.
