Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Sometimes, what happens backstage outshines what happens onstage. Alexandra Al Hitchcock works at the Lachesis Theater, a university repertory theater in New York City, as its part-time office manager. She has also been cast in the current production of William Shakespeare s Much Ado About Nothing , but learning her lines is not what has her worried. Enter the Past, Downstage Right. Charles Grayson, the show s esteemed director, has a habit of romancing any young actress that crosses his path. Backstage rumor has it that, more than a decade earlier, he had romanced three women in the same show at the same time. One of them later accused him of stealing a play that she had written, but when she couldn t prove it, allegedly killed herself. Anonymous letters directed at Grayson suggest that she is still alive and holding a grudge. Rather than go to the police, Gavin Fletcher, Al s former professor and board director of the theater, brings in FBI Agent Jack Taylor to look into things in an unofficial capacity. Jack Taylor, still on...
