Elsevier Science & Technology. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, The Benefits of E-Business Performance Measurement Systems, Matthew Hinton, David Barnes, To participate fully in the new world of e-business, organisations have to make significant financial investments. How then, should they evaluate e-business investment proposals and monitor the resulting performance of their on-line business operations? To what extent are traditional performance measurement systems fit for a world where clicks not bricks determine business success? This CIMA report describes research investigating how organisations have been adapting their performance measurement systems for e-business. The research aimed to identify the features and benefits of an effective e-business performance measurement system by studying twelve organisations that have had some success in developing performance measurement systems suitable for the on-line environment. This title is based on four years of case study research including interviews with 12 managers. It offers a distinctive view of e-business in measuring the performance of a business. In this title, recommendations are made based on the findings from cross case analysis.
