Strategic Book Publishing Rights Agency, LLC, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The absolutely stunning poetry collection Girl Flying Kite: Poems consists of forty-two poems written by an award-winning writer. Nancy Louise Lewis features poems that came from a childhood spent in Appalachia and her other life experiences. She deals with sexual abuse, questions pre-conceived ideas about the world around us, and experiments with language in her works. She says, Many of the poems have won awards, and I wanted to collect the best of my work into one volume. More to come. The first poem in the collection, and the title of her book, Girl Flying Kite, describes the moment a nuclear bomb exploded over Nagasaki, Japan, during World War II. Her poem begins: We have to imagine she had flaws, the girl whose shade is blasted forever into Nagasaki stone. She was doubtless less beautiful than the outline suggests. It ends: Seen from far above the earth, the mushroom cloud containing the molecules of the girl must have looked like a giant knob opening the door to a roomful of human horrors, lives no more than scraps of paper to be wadded up and tossed into a corner trash basket. Her words are poignant, powerful, and most importantly, unforgettable. About the Author: Now retired, award-winning newspaper journalist and college professor Nancy Louise Lewis was born near Appalachia and now lives in Connecticut. She is CEO of her nonprofit, Legalities, Inc., which helps deserving litigants afford an attorney to access the court system. This is her second book. Her first was a memoir titled Daisies Don't Lie: Misadventures in Journalism: The Making of a Feminist.
