On further consideration, however, and with the advice of several friends, I resolved to make original descriptions of all the species, feeling convinced that, by so doing, the utility of the work would be greatly increased; especially to those resident in the South African Colonies, to most of whom the study of Entomology is new, and who have few or no opportunities of reference to arranged collections of insects or entomological works. For this task I was in some measure prepared by a year's residence in the Cape colony, during which period the greater portion of my time was occupied in the collection and observation of the Lepidoptera of the country. On my return to England, I enjoyed, through the kindness of Dr. Gray, F. R. S., c., the advantage of continual access to the Entomological Department of the British Museum; obtaining from its splendid collections and valuable works of reference descriptions of the great majority of known South African species. To render the work of real use to those who have not studied the subject, I felt that, besides an Introduction, it was necessary to give the distinguishing characters of each Family and Genus, labour that would have been superfluous in a Catalogue intended for Entomologists...
