Taught by his own experience the Psalmist portrays in a series of vivid pictures the perfection of God's Law, and its power in human hearts and affairs. Praise is added to praise as he reviews all that the Living Word has wrought in his own life. By it he has been quickened, cleansed, guided and empowered. He is a new-made man because of its working, and he cannot but declare its wonder and beauty to those that come after him. No tribute which he pays to its Divine nature is more suggestive than this of his prayer for enlightenment lest he miss its treasures. Were it merely the word of man, the product of human imagination or emotion, mere man could understand it. It could be clearly read by the light of human intelligence. But it is infinitely more. Hence, none can fathom its depths, or scale its heights apart from the aid of the Divine Spirit. It is inevitably characteristic of the Word of the Lord that men should realize themselves lost when face to face with its wonders. Much of our own lack of understanding in the things of God is due to our inadequate recognition of Him Who is its only Interpreter. For only as the Spirit takes of the things of Christ, and reveals them unto us, can we recognize their matchless meaning. Were we willing to be taught, and anxious to fashion our ways according to the Divine...
