Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .What about you? Are you truly living life the way God intended? As a Christian, are you unknowingly running on your own power? Perhaps it is time to discover the cord of faith and plug in. After his father s sudden death, Derek Long goes home from college to assist his mother and finds himself in a struggle between two worlds-the reality he lives in versus the life God intended. In a series of dreams that take him from the very first seeds of creation up to the present day, an angel explains many of the incongruities of earth, both man-made and natural, that baffle science and archeology alike. While these inexplicable anomalies cast a shadow on the secular understanding of our past, they cast additional light on the biblical account of our planet and its people. Throughout time, God has had a remnant who have chosen to plug into the cord of faith. In their living by His power alone, He has ever protected them from the devastating choices brought about by those who have otherwise knowingly or unknowingly disconnected themselves from His enabling strength-a strength few believers even today have plugged into . should you?.
