The twelve months of war in 1915, as compared with the five months of war in 1914, produced more effect. Immigration from Europe has practically ceased and the legion of tourists going abroad has been reduced to a mere remnant. These conditions continue and may be expected to continue for some time to come. Meanwhile the annual attendance figures for the Aquarium show a tendency to become stationary.--C. H. T. Miss Ida M. Mellen, who has been appointed secretary and stenographer at the Aquarium, holds not only a certificate as an expert amanuensis, but comes to the Aquarium with an excellent training in biological work. She has had the advantage of academic and normal school training, followed...
