I pass three or four hours, every morning, in professional pursuits, with able masters, and a part of that time I employ with Mr. Accum, one of the best practical chemists in this country; my object is to repeat in his laboratory, and with his assistance, such chemical operations as are more particularly difficult and critical. Of late, I have found myself growing very unwell, and with a train of symptoms which affected me in a manner quite novel: an insupportable languor has, for several days, pervaded my limbs, and rendered every exertion painful; while an extremely disordered stomach has deprived me equally of the power and the disposition to receive any support from food.
