Information Age Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 318 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 6.1in. x 0.7in. A volume in The Handbook of Research in Middle Level Education Series Editor: Vincent A. Anfar, Jr. The University of Tennessee, Knoxville Volume V of The Handbook of Research in Middle Level Education highlights action research in middle grades education. As a method of inquiry, action research compels educators to take action and think reflectively about those actions in order to effect positive educational change (Mills, 2000). Teachers, administrators, university professors, and other professionals conduct action research in different ways to examine classroom practices and school issues. Educational action researchers initiate their inquiries in various contexts: alone, in small peer teams, or larger faculty groups (Zeichner, 2001). Using individual and collaborative approaches, educators gain insights into teaching and learning processes. As evidenced throughout this volume, action research in the middle grades occurs in a variety of configurations. This volume examines the dynamic ways that preservice and inservice teachers, school administrators, university faculty, and educational consortia use action research. CONTENTS: Foreword. Sue Swaim.
