Not illustrated. 1888 Excerpt: .note that the American commissioners, to the close, acted with perfect coolness and deliberation, as though they were masters of the situation, and with a perfect observance of good faith, to France as regards the French-American alliance, and to England in exposing with entire frankness the want of power on the part of Congress to do what was asked on behalf of the Tories. At the same time the American commissioners knew the absolute importance of an early signing; and Adams s testimony on this point is full of interest, as given in a letter to Robert Morris, July 6, 1783: I thank you, sir, most affectionately for your kind congratulations on the peace. When I consider the number of nations concerned, the complication of interests, --extending all over the globe, --the character of the actors, the difficulties which attended every step of the progress; how...
