Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from An Eulogy on the Life and Services of President Lincoln: Pronounced Before the Citizens of Poultney and Vicinity, April 19th, 1865 Fellow Citizens: I am sincerely and deeply sensible how unfitted I am for meeting the demands of such an hour, or of doing justice to an event which has hardly left a loyal heart unmoved, or a loyal eye unmoistened in our whole country, and made us a nation of mourners. It is no common task you have assigned me. It is no common event which has assembled us together. No joyous ceremonial - no inaugural fete, which has this day gathered you within these walls. The emblems of woe are around us; a nation is clad in the habiliments of mourning, and the voice of wailing and lamentation is heard upon every breeze. The head of this Republic - the elect of the people - the idol of a nation's hopes, so recently called for the second time to preside over the destinies of our beloved country, the Patriot - the President has fallen by the hand of an assassin. The illustrious man who but yesterday, on the steps of the Federal Capitol, under the shadow of our National banner - and in the presence of assembled thousands from all parts of the land, pronounced the solemn vow of fidelity to the Constitution, and invoked the Ruler of the Universe to attest the sincerity of the pledge which he then gave, has been compelled by a murderer's hand to lay down the high commission with which he was invested. The tongue which was then eloquent of truth is now mute forever, even...
