WOOD CARVING

Pickard Press. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 182 pages. Dimensions: 8.4in. x 5.4in. x 0.6in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1891 edition. Excerpt: . . . carving, grooving, sweeping, and modelling leaves, in cutting the hair of game, imitating basketwork, etc. , will all now come into play. As regards fitting certain tools to form the eye-balls, eye-lids, etc. , if the pupil does not as yet know the measure and capacity of his tools, he has worked to little purpose. If he should be in doubt from time to time, let him just carve an eye, or a lip, or mouth, on a piece of waste wood, and he will have no difficulty in repeating it; and he who grudges the time for such practice will never make an artist. The great difficulty in carving in deep relief and in the round, is to get the general sweep and contour and proportions of the whole, and this is difficult for a pupil who does not design, and shade, and model, while it is a mere trifle to one who does. The cutting and blocking out, which seems to be the great difficulty, is a merely mechanical process, performed with compasses, carving tools, and rasps, and sometimes with a steel bow-saw, here and there. And it presents no difficulties to any intelligent person who has carefully executed all that is described in the previous lessons, especially to one who has carved animals and simple figures, or faces, in high relief. It is true that in shops where much large and coarse work is executed, as, for instance, great pieces for ceilings,...
