ATTEMPTED POETICIDE: A NOVEL OF THE MILLENNIUM

Createspace, United States, 2011. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Set in Tigerland, its university campus and The Great Library, Attempted Poeticide is the fifth in a multi-volume series of autobiographical novels. It is the autobiographical narrative of Nachiketas, Ketas for short, the name adopted from an Upanishad because of the poet Ketas reincarnation, according to his astrological chart, pointing to his encounter with Death more than two thousand years ago and now at the dawn of THE Millennium, a neologism for the replay of an ancient myth set in the present. After more than fifteen years of exiled absence Ketas returns to his Writing Workshop to claim his citizenship in the Republic of Letters. Because of his portrayal of the Bigoted Rider, a metaphor for those who are intolerant of others because of their race or religion or ethnic or national origin, or their system of beliefs, he becomes their target for intimidation, harassment, and other acts of terrorism. When all this fails to deter Ketas from his literary pursuits, the enemies of his poetry target him for assassination, hence the nonce word and neologism, poeticide. The horoscoped Ketas transforms this looming tragedy for him, of poeticide, into a Dialogue with Death, which was supposedly his preordained karma written in the stars according to his astrological chart. Ketas survives a three-pronged assassination attempts by dint of good fortune. Ketas allegations against the crime-inclined Bigoted Rider are corroborated: in the first place, by Satya who takes it as her mission to discover the identity of two rapists who violated two young girls during the girls college years. During Satya s long search Alef Laila Chaim, a Jewish woman of Afghan family background, appears who knows the academic gangsters...
