Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Glamour of Waterford The puling of sea-gulls. Over the roofs of the city they fly, by most not seen, neither by day, when, in a lull of heavy traffic, their voices pass in the upper air, nor when, through a casement ope at night, the awakened sleeper is afflicted with the sound of their wings and of their sea-borne wailing. There are, for ever, two voices, two watchers, the souls of two peoples at the gates of Waterford, through which the ships pass out, and the voyager, not always unarmed, enters in. The great walls of the ancient city, the seventeen castles of the Knights of old, the sea which puts forth a terrible right arm - none of these have girt the city against any who would come upon it, entering in as easily as the seagulls which fly over its towers and steeples, and drop their feathers in its midmost ways.
