Xulon Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 130 pages. Dimensions: 8.4in. x 5.5in. x 0.4in. Have you ever heard the question; is it always wrong to lie? Are the actions we take to sidetrack ungodly ruthless people to be accounted by God as sin? Should the righteous lie to evil men who intend to accomplish evil purposes? It is my intention to address a mixed multitude (religious and the secular groups). In the process of reading this small offering, I would like to hope that men and women will be urged to be brave again, take the stance against evil and promote good. Although, the subjects of war and self-defense are not the primary content of this writing, hopefully, the reader may obtain a sense of correctness and approval of such activity for a just cause. For those who are currently serving in the Armed Forces or have been in the past theaters of war, law enforcement personnel, and those regular folks who have had to take some drastic measure to protect themselves and/or the innocent; my wish is that this writing will liberate you from and/or prevent the encroachment of unjustified guilt. May the conviction of the Holy Spirit in the heart of the believer prevail on the side of those precedents established in the Scriptures, rather, than antecedents presumed upon by a misconception of the Law of God, and/or conformity to one's own traditional ideas of right and wrong. That is to include, those ideas based in relativism, political correctness, and some theories of situational and secular ethics that may upstage the mandate of God with societal opinions. I also pray that people in general will cease to forsake their conscience and seek to do what is right for the sake of the common good. Know this; indecisiveness is the...
