Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2014. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A thorough and factual analysis of the most recent developments in Iraq in the context of the broader crisis in the Middle East. The author, relying on his in-depth understanding of the region identifies Iran under the Ayatollahs as the most serious threat for the region. The ongoing crises in the Middle East, from Iraq to Gaza, and the destabilization of the Levant, the Arabian Peninsula and parts of North Africa are in large part created by the Islamic Republic of Iran. Tehran has meddled in its neighbor s affairs through the backing of terror networks. It has also seized a number of significant opportunities over the past five years to expand its military influence in the region, destabilize moderate Arab states, intervene in Syria, arm and train Hezbollah in Lebanon, threaten Bahrain, and back the Hawthi insurgents in northern Yemen. Tehran s most destructive role can be most clearly distinguished in Iraq. On the issue of current developments in Iraq the author address the following issues: -What are the causes of the recent crisis in Iraq? -What is the solution to the crisis and to confront ISIS? -Can Iran be part of a potential solution to the Iraqi crisis? On the broader scope the author addresses the following issues: 1.The first section will remind the reader of the historic ideological and political roots of the present Iranian regime and underline that its original goals and its final objectives have not changed-and that the regime s central nerve power has kept up a relentless march towards these goals. 2.The paper will then examine the Iranian involvement in Syria s civil war and the destructive role it has been playing since 2011. This...
