Excerpt from Pediatrics, Vol. 24: A Monthly Journal Devoted to the Study of Disease in Infants and Children; January 1 to December 31, 1912 The last census of the United States estimates that despite hindrances of both church and state, the rate of divorces to marriages had increased from one to thirty-four in 1870 to one in twelve in 1907. Prof. Wilcox in discussing this subject in the Times, Jan. 24th, 1909, says the ratio had further increased at that time to one divorce to ten marriages. This alarming condition of divorce with its ill effect upon the morals of the body politic, has drawn, not only the attention of the church, but all. Good people to the alarm which is being sounded. A prominent church paper commenting on this subject says. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
