Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from An Exposition of Dr. Cobb s Art of Discovering the Faculties of the Human Mind and Bodily Infirmities: To Which Is Added an Auto-Biographical Sketch of the Author and a Poetic Description of Several Cities, Towns and Villages Which He Has Visited Pasture there is no science ever yet known, or ever can be known, which can be of more value to the world of mankind than the science of the human mind and the human system. Upon this subject philosophers have been speculating for ages, and forming theories, without illustrating their theories by reducing them to practice - been building castles in the air, and before they have got them well finished they are blown away by the wind. It is well known of the author of this work that he never builds theories - that he will first know the practical utility of a science before he will attempt to theorize upon the subject. The science of the human mind and human system occupied his attention in his youthful days; and his situation in life, (as will be seen by his Biography,) was such as to enable him to have recourse to all the theories, upon any subject, that had ever emanated from the craniums of the wise and learned, ever since the world. Began. Lav arter on Physiognomy, was among the first works on the human mind that interested his attention. He studied it through carefully, then began to make applications among his school mates. Then failey on the Mind, Locke on the Under standing, Cullen on the First Principles of Philosophy, Bell on Anatomy, and several Works on Physiology; and all the host of learned writers interested his attention...
