Excerpt: thereof; and recommended that an action should be instituted, on behalf of the United States, to dispossess the occupant claiming under the grant to Madame Lecompte, of all the land outside of the grant to her when properly located; and to have the true construction, and proper extent and location of the grant to Madame Lecompte, settled by judicial decision. I have no cause to change that opinion, and repeat that ad vice as being the proper and best mode of settling the controversy. It is necessary and proper, because Mr. McMaster is in possession of lands which, in my opinion, properly belong to the United States, consisting of thousands of acres of land outside of the grant to Madame Lecompte, when properly located, but within the lines thereof as improperly extended. The occupant, Mr. McMaster, cannot institute suit against the United States, if he would, to quiet his claim to land whereof he has possession; but the United States can institute suit against Mr. McMaster to oust him of his legal possessions. The act of Congress of 3d March, 1807, (2 Stat. at Large, p. 445,) entitled an Act to prevent settlements being made on lands ceded to the United States until authorized by law, gives to the President of the United States the power to remove intruders on the public lands in a summary way. But the provisoes to the sections of that act, except the case of Mr. McMasters, are out of the...
