Place the powder in a box and label it Crown and Bridge Impression Plaster. When preparing to take impression add a little more salt to the water than you would to plaster of Paris impression, as the rice flour slightly retards the crystallization of the plaster. After taking the impression, stain and pour model for crown or bridge. When model is hard, place model and impression in boiling water, and the impression will gradually disintegrate into small flakes, leaving a perfect model, crowns and teeth intact. When the impression starts to disintegrate in the boiling water, a sharp pointed instrument may be used to remove the so called parts of the impression, thus hastening the...
