Major R. Owens, Chairman, presiding. Members present: Representatives Owens, Scott, Ballenger, Fawell, and Barrett. Staff present: Maria Cuprill, Graden Goetz, Wanser Green, John McClain, Frank Berrios, Sally Lovejoy, Hans Meeder, and Chris Krese. Chairman Owens. The Subcommittee on Select Education and Civil Rights will come to order. One of the most prominent issues associated with the reauthorization of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act is the inclusion of children with disabilities in the regular classroom. The purpose of today's hearing is not to debate the merits of inclusion but to define the necessary elements and supports that must be in place in order to make inclusion work successfully for students, parents, and teachers. Education in the regular classroom must be a viable option for every child with a disability; but accomplishing that requires much more than moral pronouncements from Washington. It is already clear that inclusion is not a cheap fix. Making it happen will require a massive infusion of additional Federal resources. Through today's hearing, we hope to learn more about what the community thinks schools need to make inclusion both possible and effective. As we discuss this issue, two critical points must be kept in mind: First, the foundation of IDEA is the use of the individualized education plan to make placement and other decisions with...
