This occasioned shame and confusion of face before the Lord. Came to Him just as I was--a poor, helpless, guilty sinner. He did not cut me off, but healed my backsliding. Oct. 30th.--My classes are my treasure. Nov. 4th.--Mr. Mayne ordered me to the barracks to form a soldiers class. I was unwilling, and said the work would much better become himself, but he would take no denial. I was obliged to go. The Lord was with us. . Dec. 4th.--It is nine years since I obtained perfect love. How unfaithful have I been! I cannot say, as more faithful souls, that I never lost the blessing. With shame I acknowledge I have again and again; but God has not suffered me to rest in defiled garments. -Nov. 18, 1814.--Both my classes prosper, but O my family! May the Most High hear prayer on their behalf Jan. 4, 1815.--Blessed be God, Mr. Mayne s sermon on last Sabbath evening reached the heart of my younger son, John. His text was, Ye cannot serve two masters. I never saw one in more distress of mind; all desire for meat, drink, and sleep, was taken away. This morning he was up, waiting for me, before it was light. I prayed with him. He found comfort, but did not fully satisfy me that he had found peace till two o clock. I talked to and prayed with him again, and found, to my unspeakable...
