

The Grey Lady (Paperback)

By Henry Seton Merriman

Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Qui n accepte pas le regret n accepte pas la vie. The train technically known as the Flying Dutchman, tearing through the plains of Taunton, and in a first-class carriage by themselves, facing each other, two boys. One of these boys remembers the moment to this day. A journey accomplished with Care for a travelling companion usually adheres to the wheels of memory until those wheels are still. Grim Care was with these boys in the railway carriage. A great catastrophe had come to them. A FitzHenry had failed to pass into her Majesty s Navy. Back and back through the generations - back to the days when England had no navy - she had always been served at sea by a FitzHenry. Moreover, there had always been a Henry of that name on the books. Henry, the son of Henry, had, as a matter of course, gone down to the sea in a ship, had done his country s business in the great waters.
